2013 Report

I present to you the 2013 Annual Report of the Pembroke Police Department. The year is what we thought it would be; full of activity and with low staffing. All of our patrol officers handled a variety of reports to include 16 Burglary cases, 9 Issuing Bad Check cases and 54 Theft cases not to mention all of their other patrol duties to include parking, motor vehicle stops, animal complaints, domestics, driving offences to name just a few.

Since January of 2013, the department has added three full time officers after having several departures. Officer Phil Goodacre was promoted to a Detective Position, as well as the recent additions of Officer Keith Sawyer from the State of New Hampshire Juvenile Probation and Parole Department, Officer Tom Sheveland from the Department of Corrections in the State of Massachusetts and Officer Michael Foster from the Town of Orford, New Hampshire. All three Officers that were hired brought with them a team approach and experience to an already well-rounded young department.

Although the Statistics in this report show what the department has handled for calls and what calls we are currently dealing with, actions across the country have changed our focus in some areas of training. In the past, the department viewed training in ways to develop an officer's strong point that would benefit the officer and the department. The Pembroke Police is now focused on training its officers as others are across the country. Our school systems and large populated areas are the target of gun violence with many innocent victims coming in harms way. The Town of Pembroke is no different from the others that are on the news, it just has not happened here. Officers are being trained on how to respond, react, and eliminate the threat of an issue that threatens our citizens during one of these unfortunate situations such as "Sandy Hook Elementary" and "New Mexico's Berrendo Middle School" to only name a few and not to overlook other communities that have fallen victim to this type of act.

In closing, I have always been told by colleagues and people of importance to end a discussion on a positive note. As not to let them down, our department is very young and experienced. Our department will answer the phone when you call and will respond to your house when asked. In most cases, our officers will prevent a situation in your community before you are aware of it. That is called a successful patrol shift. The normal response when we talk about our calls and cases is "that happened in this town" or "In the little Town of Pembroke"... It is because we have had many successful patrol shifts and no one has heard about it, which is a great thing.

Thank you to all who have supported the Police Department and we look forward to continuing to work together in making Pembroke a safe place to live.

Thank you, Stay Safe.

Dwayne R Gilman
Chief of Police
